CODE OF CONDUCT AND SAFETY RULES FOR VISITORS AND DRIVERS

SECURITY +31 181 27 8200
EMERGENCY +31 181 27 8112

Welcome to the ECT Delta terminal. Every day, many people frequently visit our terminal. Not just our own employees, but also nautical service suppliers, truck drivers and visitors. Therefore, safety and security rules are important to both you and us. We have listed the most important rules in this brochure. Please read it carefully and always adhere to the rules.

SECURITY

The ECT Delta terminal is in compliance with different safety legislation (ISPS and AEO). Access to the terminal is monitored by Security. Each visitor needs to be registered in advance, carry valid identification and, if so requested, present this identification. The registration certificate of the vehicle must be shown when registering. Additional random identity checks and/or searches of incoming and outgoing traffic may be conducted. The entire terminal is under video surveillance.

TERMINAL INSTRUCTIONS

Before a visitor may enter the terminal, a safety instruction must be followed.

This instruction is concluded with a few questions that must be answered correctly, see:

<https://ect.toegangsbbeer.com>

The terminal instructions do not apply to truck drivers who come to load or unload a container.

Carpooling arrangement for visitors: If you arrive with multiple visitors in one vehicle, you are required to use the carpool lane. The driver of the vehicle is responsible for ensuring that all passengers leave the terminal together.

SAFETY

The rules from the Company Traffic Code and the Safety Manual are in force at all ECT terminals. You can find these at www.ect.nl. As on the public road, it is very important that you always pay attention to the traffic situation. Adjust your driving if necessary.

THE MAIN SAFETY RULES

GENERAL

- Visitors should be able to understand Dutch, German or English and make themselves understood in one of these languages.
- Instructions by Security must always be followed.
- Passengers, children and animals may not be taken onto the terminal.
- Only the marked routes may be used.
- The maximum speed on the through roads is 50 km/hour.
- The maximum speed on the quay is 30 km/hour.
- Overtaking other vehicles is prohibited, with the exception of stationary and very slowly moving vehicles (less than 10 km/hour).
- Traffic lights must always be adhered to. If traffic light installations are not working, the normal road regulations apply.
- It is prohibited to drive or park on the lanes for internal traffic.
- Mobile phones may not be used without a car kit or earpiece.
- The use of dimmed headlights and vehicle safety belts is compulsory.
- Open flames are not permitted on the terminal.
- Smoking is prohibited on the terminal and in vehicles with the exception of areas specifically designated for this purpose.
- Parking is only permitted in the designated parking areas.
- It is not permitted to be in areas with restricted or limited access, such as operational areas. These areas are marked with signs. The unauthorised access of such areas constitutes a breach of the safety rules.
- Wearing a safety helmet, safety vest and safety shoes is mandatory in operational areas.
- The usage of, being under the influence of and possession of and trade in narcotics and alcohol are prohibited.
- Keep the terminal clean and always properly dispose of your litter in a waste basket.
- Stopping directly after the last barrier at the Security Building is prohibited.

TRAFFIC ON THE QUAY

- The quay is operational area; only designated traffic is permitted.
- A safety helmet, safety vest and safety shoes must be worn at all times on the quay.
- It is strictly prohibited to drive, walk or park underneath cargo (container) suspended from a crane.
- Pay attention to the traffic lights hanging from the crane and adhere to them.
- Ships may only be supplied following consultation with Operations.
- It is not permitted to exit a vehicle on the waterside of the ECT Delta terminal quays. Both drivers and passengers must always exit the vehicle on the landside.
- The area around a mooring bollard must be kept free at all times (minimum 1 metre). This ensures that KRVE personnel have sufficient space to safely secure and release mooring lines.

- Parking is only allowed in front of or behind a vessel, never next to a vessel, and only within the designated parking lane.

SAFETY RULES FOR TRUCK DRIVERS

- Truck drivers should be able to understand Dutch, German or English and make themselves understood in one of these languages.
- Positioning for the blocks takes place in the waiting areas designated for this purpose.
- Keep the queue for the block groups closed, do not create unnecessary gaps.
- Wearing a safety vest and safety shoes is mandatory at the blocks.
- Twist locks may only be unfastened and fastened at the blocks.
- Adjustments to the chassis can only be made at the blocks.
- The Cargo Card and/or green light may only be activated after the chassis has been readied.
- During the loading and/or discharging of a container, no one is permitted to remain inside the vehicle cab. Drivers must stand next to the cabin and remain visible at all times to the straddle carrier, reach stacker or empty handler operator. This must be done at the yellow-marked footprints located beside the driver cabins.
- It is not permitted to approach the chassis while the container is being unloaded and/or loaded.
- Not adhering to the rules may result in delays.

IN CASE OF AN INCIDENT

All accidents, damages and/or incidents such as the leakage of (environmentally) hazardous substances must immediately be reported to Security: +31 181 27 8200; please dial for emergencies: +31 181 27 8112. Always follow the instructions of the company emergency response team or Security in the case of an incident.

ADHERENCE AND ENFORCEMENT

Both the management of ECT and Security oversee adherence to and enforcement of the safety and security rules. The terminal management and Security can remove you and deny you access to the ECT site should you fail to cooperate or adhere to the rules.

A sanction policy is in place at ECT for non-compliance with the rules. This may mean you or your company are denied further access to the terminal.

QUESTIONS?

Please consult your contact person, the terminal organisation or the Safety, Security & Environment (SSE) department should you have any questions, secretariaatSSE@ect.nl.
